
2006
Greater Montana Foundation
Grant Recipients

Artemis Common Ground

To obtain copies of Home Ground contact Carmine Mobray at clarity@cyberport.net
Home Ground Radio, hosted by Brian Kahn, is a weekly thirty-minute radio conversation with community leaders that assist Montanans in forming their own views about issues that determine their future.

Mansfield Center and KPAX-TV

To obtain copies of this program call KPAX-TV at 406.542.4400.
Libby and Minamata focuses on Libby, Montana's asbestos issue and Minamata, Japan city's mercury poisoning.

Montana Broadcasters Association

For more information about the awards go to www.mtbroadcasters.org/awards.phtml
EB Craney Awards, named after Greater Montana Foundation's founder, Ed Craney, award talent in local news whether it be production or promotion.

Montana PBS

To obtain copies of the following programs visit www.montanapbs.org/Shop
11th and Grant with Eric Funk is an ongoing television series hosted by composer Eric Funk that will spotlight local Montana music.

Animal Empire is an entertaining and educational one hour documentary exploring the lives of the people and animals who share the land along the border of Yellowstone Park.

EB Craney Film Preservation Project is a project that preserved historical Montana film footage, formerly owned by ED Craney, by transferring it to a modern media.

In Without Knocking, a television premier will follow the legendary Montana Mission Mountain Wood Band's path to fame.

Montana Focus is an ongoing news and current events program hosted by Gene Brodeur.

MusEco Media and Education Project

To obtain copies of the following programs contact Kris Prinzing at kris@museco.org
Montana Muse is a weekly radio show that features music created by Montanans.

Waste Not Want Not: Conserving the Last Best Place

Sustainable Obtainable Solutions

This program is not yet completed.

Sustainable Choices Television is a series of television programs that helps Montanans make smart, environmentally responsible choices in their daily lives.

University of Montana Radio and Television Department

To obtain copies of the following programs call 406.243.4011.

Business: Made in Montana features businesses in Big Sky country that create products that are sent around the state, the region and the world.

Montana Journal features news about Montana for Montanans.

Montana Legislative News two senior broadcast journalism students filed daily newscasts covering the news of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of the state government.

Student Documentary Unit is a capstone class for Radio-Television students at the University of Montana, in which the students shoot, write and edit a program of choice.

Summer Internship Program awards stipends to University of Montana Journalism students interning in Montana.

University of Montana Broadcast Media Center

To obtain copies of the following programs visit www.montanapbs.org/Shop

Backroads of Montana, the series, has traveled across Montana and visited its unique people and places.

Champions of the World, a documentary on the 1904 Indian Girls' Basketball Team from Fort Shaw who attended the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair and were proclaimed the world champions.

King of the Continent is a documentary on the 1967 grizzly bear maulings in Glacier National Park that changed bear management techniques.